ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

TO DROP TWO TRAINS

From L. & N. Schedule Beginning Next Sunday—May Be Put Back On Later.

Next Sunday, October 18th, the L. & N. will take off two trains, coming in and going out of Maysville. The trains to be dropped are numbers 3 and 4. No. 3 arrives at 7:35 a. m. and No. 4 departs at 8 a. m.

Superintendent Anderson was here yesterday conferring with local agent, H. S. Ellis and a committee of business men regarding the matter and Mr. Anderson informed the committee that the business depression brought on by the European war forced his company to retrench and that refreshment was the slogan all along the line. He declared however, that later on possibly by December, when the new schedule had been tried out that the two discontinued trains might be put back on.

Of course the discontinuance of these trains is a very serious blow to Maysville business men and the traveling public, and especially so to our public schools, as a large number of the pupils come to the Maysville schools on the 7:35 train in the morning.

This is such a serious matter to the Maysville public that The Public Ledger sincerely hopes that the L. & N. management will see its way clear to place the two trains back on before the year is out.

CALLED HOME

Rev. William Webster Hall Widely Known and Beloved Minister of the Christian Church Passed To The Great Beyond.

Rev. W. W. Hall is dead.

This simple announcement brings tears to many an eye and sorrow to many a heart. No preacher in Mason county was nearer and dearer to the public than Rev. Willie Hall. Lovable, gentle and sympathetic, he made friends and retained them by his sincerity, humility and kindness of manner. How many homes did he gladden with hope by divine ministrations! To the poor, the ill and the dying his presence gave a sustaining and supporting strength as coming through him from the Savior of man.

Brother Hall was born in Massachusetts 76 years ago and came to Dover, this county, in early youth with his mother, Mrs. Eliza Hall, who later married the late Langhorne Tabb, of Dover, one of Mason county's most prominent citizens and merchants. Mr. Tabb was a second father to Willie Hall and their love and esteem was mutual and good to behold.

Rev. Hall passed many years of his life at Dover, studying for the Christian ministry in early manhood and entering over 50 years of pastoral life. He had charges in score of churches and probably officiated at more marriages and funerals than any preacher this county ever produced.

Rev. Hall's health began to decline a few years ago and a few weeks ago went to the home of his daughter in Richmond, Ky., in hopes that the change would do him good, but the Death Angel called him to Eternal rest Sunday evening at 9 o'clock. With him at the end were his wife, who was Miss Elizabeth Pickett, his daughter, Mrs. D. H. Breck, and his son Mr. Langhorne Tabb Hall. His oldest son, Mr. Pickett Hall was in Ohio and could not be located. Rev. Hall is also survived by two half sisters, Mrs. Thomas P. Anderson of Point au View Farm, Mrs. Ella Hanna, of Dover and one half brother, Mr. L. M. Tabb of St. Louis, Mo.

The remains will be brought here Wednesday morning and the funeral will be held from the Christian church this city, at 10:30 a. m. Burial in Maysville cemetery.

Rev. Maurice Waller of the Presbyterian Church, assisted by the pastor Rev. Albert F. Stahl, will have charge of the services at the church and at the grave.

A POLITICAL REVOLUTION PREDICTED.

Congressman Nicholas Longworth said in an interview last week:

"I tried to have a vacation," said Mr. Longworth, "but I had little time for a rest. I made speeches in Massachusetts and in Maine and I found plenty of Republican enthusiasm. The business interests have awakened to the fact that conditions in this country are not such as were promised by the present Democratic administration, and the men of affairs are taking an active part in the political issues in their respective communities. The working people are also aware that the promise of good times and higher wages made by the Wilson administration is a myth, and they too, are taking more than a passing interest in political affairs. I believe the wage earner and the employer will join issues in the coming campaign and express their sentiments in no uncertain terms and will put the stamp of disapproval on present conditions."

"Have only to say that I studied conditions in the East very carefully and I am convinced there will be a political revolution which will sweep the present Democratic administration into oblivion. The attempt of the Wilson administration to place the blame for the present hard times on the European war is scoffed at by the people in the East.

"The fact that more than 15,000 men are idle in this city from the factories and shops alone is causing the people of this section of the State to sit up and take notice. In the East the button factories employed 12,000 men and women. When the present Congress took the duty off buttons every factory in the East was closed and all these wage earners were thrown out of employment. That is only one instance of the manner in which the Wilson administration has violated its promises of better times. The average workman is intelligent enough to realize these facts, and I believe they will express their disapproval at the polls on November."

THE DAILY NOVELLETTE.

On To Albania.

Onward our hero struggled;
Onward to glory and fame;
Onward he suffered and conquered—
Then newspapers misspelt his name.

(Synopsis of preceding chapters: Our handsome hero, Simon Dreadnaught, son of the American multi-millionaire fly-paper inventor, is flying over Belgium in his 189-horse power Postum to join the Albanian army and thus be near the idol of his dreams, Princess Swattermoeckin. At Aux-Jumpey he encounters a battalion of German infantry, and only saves himself by tossing the troops little German flags. He speeds on his way, through shot and shell, especially shell, apparently on the all-protecting wings of love. A hundred times he escapes death by an eighth of an inch, a thousand times by a sixteenth. The Belgian blocks fly past so swiftly that they seem like one long Belgian block. Finally, while he is racing over the Sackamaxon bridge, only six miles from Albania, a loud report directly behind him shatters the whole car, almost pitching him out on his Henry Hutt head. Dreadnaught never looks behind, but shortly after there is another report louder than the first, and then, in rapid succession, two more, each one almost knocking the Postum into a ditch.)

CHAPTER 987.

At the fourth report the car stopped, quivering. Jumping out, Dreadnaught saw that all four tires had blown out.

"Oh," he said, "now I know what made those explosions!"

The enemy was not chasing him after all, so he pushed the car the rest of the way.

COFFEE CAUSES STOMACH TROUBLE AND OLD AGE

Physician Says it Interferes with Digestion and Hastens Death By Hardening Arteries.

Among other physiological effects of coffee drinking it is found that this beverage with its drug, caffeine, is one of the causes of premature old age, according to Dr. J. H. Kellogg, of the Battle Creek Sanitarium. He says:

"The evil effects of coffee on all persons of whatever age may be briefly summed up as follows:

"First, the tannic acid in coffee interferes with digestion.

"Second, the caffeine of coffee is a nerve poison.

"Third, the effects produced are similar to those of alcohol. When long used, the result is damage to the poison destroying glands, particularly the thyroid gland, liver and the kidneys, as a result hardening of the arteries and premature old age. All medical authorities forbid the use of caffeine or coffee to persons whose arteries are hardened or who have high blood pressure. This condition is always present in elderly people.

"Coffee is particularly bad for young children, because the thyroid gland and other poison-destroying glands are not yet well developed. Any intelligent parent would not permit a child to use coffee."

NOTE—Among invalids and those recovering from disease and surgical operation coffee drinking is almost invariably forbidden. On the contrary the pure food-drink INSTANT POSTUM finds extensive use in hospitals and sanitariums the country over. This delicious beverage is taking the place of coffee in thousands of American homes where health is valued. "There's a reason."

ANOTHER BOMB

Thrown Into the Wikoff Camp By the Greenlee Forces

Battle Over Lower Street Waxing Hot No Fatalities As Yet

Editor Public Ledger:

Mr. Wikoff, the C. & O. Agent in an article in The Ledger dated the 10th, takes particular pleasure in calling attention to my position in opposing the granting of Lower street to the C. & O.; also in regard to my acting lawfully as Councilman of the City. Let us consider a few items to see if Agent Wykoff of the C. & O. has acted lawfully.

First, I wish to call his attention to the ordinance, page 79, adopted June 16th, 1881. That said company may cut across and occupy the streets, alleys and grades of said city, upon the following line, viz: Commencing at a point on the West side of Lower street in said City to be designated in its location by said company, thence up the bank of the Ohio River passing over said street on WORKS of not less than FORTY feet span in the clear, so as at least not to obstruct travel and trade upon said street to and from the river.

Second, Section 1, page 130. That any person who shall hinder, delay or obstruct any fireman in the discharge of his duties in the time of a fire or the alarm of fire, or who shall at any time, deface, break, injure, ride, drive over, or upon any hose or other apparatus be longing to or used by a fire company, shall be fined not exceeding twenty dollars. The fire department records will cite you to two cases lately—June 1913, house owned by Joshua Green and occupied by him; January 17th, 1914, house at Third and Poplar streets, occupied by Aaron Stokes and owned by Mike Swift. These houses were destroyed because the C. & O. freight trains were not cut at the street, thus preventing the fire department from reaching the fire.

Third, That it shall be unlawful for any conductor, engineer or other person in charge or control of any steam locomotive or railroad train, to run the same within the corporate limits of the city at a greater speed than fifteen miles an hour. This ordinance is violated daily.

Fourth, It is also unlawful for any train to block a street (you can ask the citizens in the East End in regard to this.)

Mr. Wikoff, if you will consult the ordinance granting the right of way, you will find you are violating the provisions of the ordinance by cutting down the span over the drive ways to river on every street leading to it. When it calls for forty feet roadway you have cut them to one-half and when it calls for twelve feet high they are now eight feet. In a short while the main grade will be useless and then Maysville will see how generous you will be in your rates on freight, when there is no river competition.

It's true however, some officers can be excused for their actions (not knowing any better) but I'll assure Mr. Wykoff that I have as much business ability as some of the Councilmen that the C. & O. thought so much of in the eighties, who gave the right of way over Bridge street; or the next set that accepted a ten foot tract of land on West Second street, where the C. & O. yards are, that has cost the city at least $5,000.00 for building and retaining walls, and two sets of pavements; also brick streets. These state men are facts.

A most deplorable affair was staged at Ruegless, Lewis county, Saturday morning when Grant Cooper and Grover Dyer engaged in a heated argument over one of the men's dog, the argument terminating in both men being killed.

Both Cooper and Dyer had been bosom friends up until the time of the tragedy and no one thought of a killing taking place. But both men had shot guns and in a sudden heat of passion Cooper raised his gun and fired at Dyer, the shot taking effect, and while falling mortally wounded Dyer emptied both barrels of his shotgun into Cooper. Both men died in a few minutes after the shooting.

The killing took place on Trace Creek on the Kinnickinnick branch of the C. & O., about 22 miles southeast of Vanceburg. Cooper was about 40 years of age, a widower, and he leaves three children. Dyer was a son of Leander Dyer, a storekeeper at Ruegless. Coroner Wells of Vanceburg was notified.

Mr. Wykoff, it's true, your road put in sixteen sidings for Maysville business men, but what's that got to do with the other 5,000 people giving your road this tract of land? Your sidings are mutual benefits to you and the business man who gets it "only." The business men that gave your road the right of way up Front street, an entire street in the Fifth Ward free, these were the real business men according to Mr. Wykoff. Mr. Wykoff, your payroll certainly does not include your entire list of employees. How about the class that rides about on passes and helps keep the taxes down for the C. & O., and are always for the city giving anything that the C. & O. wants FREE. Will the C. & O. give as much per square foot for Lower street as they gave for the property for depots etc., and why not? If Lower street abutted to the adjoining property would they expect them to donate it free to the railroad?

Since we found out that Agent Wykoff is the legal attorney of the C. & O. we would ask him to have the C. & O. bridge on Bridge street four feet higher so the city can fill the hole and make the street level; decrease the speed of trains to the limit; cut the trains at every street while they are not in motion; remove the piles out of the street drive way; stop the loud and continued whistling of the freight trains at all hours of the night.

When this matter was presented before Council it was my duty as a member from the First Ward to oppose giving away Lower Street to a private corporation. It has not been my desire to carry this communication in the paper. Mr. Wykoff appeared before Council only as an agent of the C. & O. The C. & O. has so many legal representatives, and as yet none have ever appeared before Council with this subject.

After taking the first bottle I noticed a great improvement in my condition. I continued taking it and now I am rid of all my troubles and cannot say anything too good for Vinol." —Roy F. For all run-down, weak, devitalized conditions of men and women, nothing equals Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil.

Vinol is a constitutional remedy. It creates an appetite, aids digestion, makes pure, healthy blood. In this natural manner it builds up strength and vitality.

Second, Section 1, page 130. That any person who shall hinder, delay or obstruct any fireman in the discharge of his duties in the time of a fire or the alarm of fire, or who shall at any time, deface, break, injure, ride, drive over, or upon any hose or other apparatus be longing to or used by a fire company, shall be fined not exceeding twenty dollars. The fire department records will cite you to two cases lately—June 1913, house owned by Joshua Green and occupied by him; January 17th, 1914, house at Third and Poplar streets, occupied by Aaron Stokes and owned by Mike Swift. These houses were destroyed because the C. & O. freight trains were not cut at the street, thus preventing the fire department from reaching the fire.

Third, That it shall be unlawful for any conductor, engineer or other person in charge or control of any steam locomotive or railroad train, to run the same within the corporate limits of the city at a greater speed than fifteen miles an hour. This ordinance is violated daily.

Fourth, It is also unlawful for any train to block a street (you can ask the citizens in the East End in regard to this.)

the span over the drive ways to river on every street leading to it. When it calls for forty feet roadway you have cut them to one-half and when it calls for twelve feet high they are now eight feet. In a short while the main grade will be useless and then Maysville will see how generous you will be in your rates on freight, when there is no river competition.

It's true however, some officers can be excused for their actions (not knowing any better) but I'll assure Mr. Wykoff that I have as much business ability as some of the Councilmen that the C. & O. thought so much of in the eighties, who gave the right of way over Bridge street; or the next set that accepted a ten foot tract of land on West Second street, where the C. & O. yards are, that has cost the city at least $5,000.00 for building and retaining walls, and two sets of pavements; also brick streets. These state men are facts.

A most deplorable affair was staged at Ruegless, Lewis county, Saturday morning when Grant Cooper and Grover Dyer engaged in a heated argument over one of the men's dog, the argument terminating in both men being killed.

Both Cooper and Dyer had been bosom friends up until the time of the tragedy and no one thought of a killing taking place. But both men had shot guns and in a sudden heat of passion Cooper raised his gun and fired at Dyer, the shot taking effect, and while falling mortally wounded Dyer emptied both barrels of his shotgun into Cooper. Both men died in a few minutes after the shooting.

The killing took place on Trace Creek on the Kinnickinnick branch of the C. & O., about 22 miles southeast of Vanceburg. Cooper was about 40 years of age, a widower, and he leaves three children. Dyer was a son of Leander Dyer, a storekeeper at Ruegless. Coroner Wells of Vanceburg was notified.

Mr. Wykoff, it's true, your road put in sixteen sidings for Maysville business men, but what's that got to do with the other 5,000 people giving your road this tract of land? Your sidings are mutual benefits to you and the business man who gets it "only." The business men that gave your road the right of way up Front street, an entire street in the Fifth Ward free, these were the real business men according to Mr. Wykoff. Mr. Wykoff, your payroll certainly does not include your entire list of employees. How about the class that rides about on passes and helps keep the taxes down for the C. & O., and are always for the city giving anything that the C. & O. wants FREE. Will the C. & O. give as much per square foot for Lower street as they gave for the property for depots etc., and why not? If Lower street abutted to the adjoining property would they expect them to donate it free to the railroad?

Since we found out that Agent Wykoff is the legal attorney of the C. & O. we would ask him to have the C. & O. bridge on Bridge street four feet higher so the city can fill the hole and make the street level; decrease the speed of trains to the limit; cut the trains at every street while they are not in motion; remove the piles out of the street drive way; stop the loud and continued whistling of the freight trains at all hours of the night.

When this matter was presented before Council it was my duty as a member from the First Ward to oppose giving away Lower Street to a private corporation. It has not been my desire to carry this communication in the paper. Mr. Wykoff appeared before Council only as an agent of the C. & O. The C. & O. has so many legal representatives, and as yet none have ever appeared before Council with this subject.

"I tried Beef, Iron and Wine, and other remedies without benefit. I learned of how Vinol had helped others and decided to try it. After taking the first bottle I noticed a great improvement in my condition. I continued taking it and now I am rid of all my troubles and cannot say anything too good for Vinol." —Roy F. For all run-down, weak, devitalized conditions of men and women, nothing equals Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil.

Vinol is a constitutional remedy. It creates an appetite, aids digestion, makes pure, healthy blood. In this natural manner it builds up strength and vitality.

Try a bottle with the understanding you can get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

Editor Public Ledger:

Mr. Wikoff, the C. & O. Agent in an article in The Ledger dated the 10th, takes particular pleasure in calling attention to my position in opposing the granting of Lower street to the C. & O.; also in regard to my acting lawfully as Councilman of the City. Let us consider a few items to see if Agent Wykoff of the C. & O. has acted lawfully.

First, I wish to call his attention to the ordinance, page 79, adopted June 16th, 1881. That said company may cut across and occupy the streets, alleys and grades of said city, upon the following line, viz: Commencing at a point on the West side of Lower street in said City to be designated in its location by said company, thence up the bank of the Ohio River passing over said street on WORKS of not less than FORTY feet span in the clear, so as at least not to obstruct travel and trade upon said street to and from the river.

Second, Section 1, page 130. That any person who shall hinder, delay or obstruct any fireman in the discharge of his duties in the time of a fire or the alarm of fire, or who shall at any time, deface, break, injure, ride, drive over, or upon any hose or other apparatus be longing to or used by a fire company, shall be fined not exceeding twenty dollars.
